PRESSE RELEASE

13th october 2016

This day was an opportunity for AMDI to highlight its customers with a dedicated exhibition hall.

The many guests could be discovered new plants and exchange on the various technical solutions implemented eg on the new motorcycle: model SS100 Brough Superior.

AMDI needed new premises to meet the growth of its business. This project integrates the rationalization of surfaces (previously on 2 different sites), modernization of processes and a high level of comfort for employees.

The design and build were entrusted to the GSE Rhône-Alpes agency. GSE was very attentive to his client needs and knew how to transcribe the specifications and to design a building respecting to all its requirements. GSE has also integrated the process evolutions throughout the construction.
